

IALP MEMBER BENEFITS FOR AFFILIATED SOCIETIES

By joining IALP we hope that your organisation and your members will actively engage and benefit from the delivery of IALP's new strategic plan (2023- 2028).

Affiliated societies have been engaged to inform the IALP strategic plan and are involved in the co-production of the implementation plans which support the delivery of the priority action items within each strategic area.

IALP'S FOUR CORE STRATEGIES

STRATEGY 1: RESEARCH AND IMPLEMENTATION

Facilitate implementation and evidence-based practice by fostering and disseminating research and data that advances the science and practice in the field of human communication sciences and disorders.

STRATEGY 2: NETWORKING AND EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMMING

Support knowledge sharing and skill development by providing networking and educational programming among multidisciplinary professionals working in the field of human communication sciences and disorders.

STRATEGY 3: ADVOCATE AND PARTNER

Increase access to and quality of services in the field of human communication sciences and related disorders through awareness raising, influencing and partnerships.

STRATEGY 4: GROW AND SUSTAIN

Grow and sustain a vibrant and effective professional association that upholds the highest standards of governance and integrity in all that we do.

Strategy 3 includes a priority to:

Strengthen partnerships and communication with national, regional, and local scientific and professional associations addressing human communication sciences and disorders.

The IALP Board includes a representative for each of the large, medium and small affiliated societies. These representatives work with the Vice President of Membership and Partnerships to:

- Establish ways of working with the organisations they represent.
- Set up regular meetings to support effective joint planning and communications to inform IALP Board discussions and
- Work together to deliver the implementation plans where appropriate.

As an Affiliated Society you will be able to display the IALP logo and link to the IALP strategic plan and IALP website on your own association website and materials.

Key member benefits include:

1. Influencing the work of the WHO and active engagement with their workstreams through IALP representatives.
2. Supporting the capacity development of affiliated societies and the services they provide to their members including the provision of culturally appropriate resources.
3. Supporting affiliated societies to influence the status and scope of their profession(s) in meeting the needs of populations within each country.
4. Sharing competency based and interprofessional approaches to education and training.
5. Sharing research and innovation in areas of clinical practice.
6. Developing partnership working with other related international organizations regarding the issues of concern related to our professions and service users.
7. Electronic access for all the members of your society to our in-house scientific journal, Folia Phoniatica et Logopaedica (6 issues per year, special issues and back issues) and other curated collections.
8. Voting rights at the Annual General Assembly or Extraordinary General Assembly, based on the size of the association. For detailed information about the number of delegates representing your association, please refer to Appendix B.

Appendix A provides a breakdown of membership categories, annual fees based on membership numbers and details about voting rights and delegate representation at the annual General Assembly.
